Dear Bryan

Hopes of being able to clearly see the Isle of Man from the Mull of Galloway were sadly dashed by poor weather – next time perhaps.

In the meantime, here is a view westwards on the beach at Port Logan, a few miles north from the Mull.

Very peaceful in June, as the deluge of humanity from Glasgow had yet to arrive for the summer holidays. The Mull of Galloway is a fascinating place. Not unlike the Isle of Man, the Mull and villages to the north remind the visitor of what coastal life was like in the first half of the twentieth century. Plenty of wild-flowers and pebbly beaches that clatter when the high tide turns. Offshore the sound of gannets diving into the water is quite memorable.

Wishing you well on 1st November 2025 at the annual Lowry Lounge. I trust that family and friends are able to join you both on the Wirral and in the city centre.

Very best wishes from

Jeremy

... Well must close this note now, but first I will ask you to tell the Seattle Star
that you have found it,
because I am going to start reading the paper from today and looking for a piece
that says, WHO WHEN and WHERE it was found.
Thanks.

The Lowry Centre is positioned at the centre of the recently redeveloped Salford Quays in a tribute to Stretford-born artist L.S. Lowry. The centre contains over 350 paintings and drawings by Lowry who died in 1976. Lowry's work mainly focused on scenes of industrial Britain, particularly of Salford and Pendlebury where he lived and worked. Photograph: Paul Thompson Images.

Here in the Lakes holidays.
Marge and I think this would make an excellent new home for us. We're seriously thinking about it.
Weather a bit wet but plenty of walks to keep our spirits up. Regards Marge

Au cœur de la Vallée de la Marne

Gabriola Island, B.C.

Accessed from Nanaimo by ferry or from Vancouver by float plane, this beautiful island has three provincial waterfront parks and many beaches to relax on whilst watching the abundant wildlife. Recreation consists of fishing, golfing, diving and kayaking or explore the amazing cave-like sandstone formations called Malaspina Galleries.

Oct.15, 2025

- I finally took the ferry to Gabriola. Housing is now unaffordable, but there is still respite, refuge, and occasional splendour.
